Ultimatum Received as Friendly Act by Peking Government, Which Straightway Seeks Another from United States.

ODESSA, July 2.-According to advices ministers at Peking have presented a joint note to the Chinese government in the foilowing terms:

1. Russia's occupation of Manchuria threatents the maintenance of peace in the Far East and injures the interests of England and Japan.

2. If the departure of the Russians from Manchuria is indefinitely postponed England and Japan must proceed to protect their interests.

8. China must demand from Russia the immediate evacuation of Manchuria.

4. Japan and England acknowledge no treaty between China and Russia which does not require Russia to evacuate Manchuria.

5. If after the evacuation of Manchuria a treaty between China and Russia with respect to the civil administration of Manchuria is deemed necessary such treaty can only be concluded with the approval of Great Britain and Japan.

6. A reply to this note is demanded within two days.

Prince Ching, president of the Foreign board, adds the Sviet, has counseled the empress dowager to accept the Anglo-Japanese demands and has also requested United States Minister Conger to give them his support.

But the recent official statement regarding the presentation to the Russian government of the Jewish petition indicated that the administration felt Russia has sought to induce China to join in breaking the plighted faith of all the powers as to the open door in Manchuria and so has acted adversely to American interests.

While the United States has contended for the open door in Manchuria its policy has been to act independently of the powers, but frequently along the same lines. It is quite possible that the government has been sounded as to its attitude on the subject of the Anglo-Japanese note and it is also within the bounds of possibility that the protesting powers may have the moral Support of the United States.

Russian Foreign Office Points to Refusal of British Protest.

ST. PETERSBURG. July 3 .- President Roosevelt's decision to forward to the Russian government the petition in behalf of the Russian Jews is not published here The foreign office has made the following statement:

The car alone can decide whether the petition will be received, but Alexander III would never have received such a petition. The possible possible possible petition form the Guidnail meeting called by the lord mayor of London in 1891, was returned through the foreign office, as being inconvenient.

The foreign office hopes the Americans will not invite such a slight. They would resent an anti-lynching petition. The foreign office has no special interest in the question except a desire that international relations remain unharmed since the matter is purely domestic and belongs to another ministerial department.

The original proposition of the Clark road was to build a short line from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City. After the road was started the Harriman interests became convinced that it would be the better wisdom to sell their Callentes branch rather than have the new road parallel it. The Calientes branch is of little benefit to the Short line, except as a feeder, and runs from no large point, while the new line would catch all of the through business and prove dangerous competitor. The territory could support but one local railroad, so the sale was made to Senator Clark's road.
